Happy November Everyone!!

This month has been particularly busy and stressful for me. I'm sure everyone has had a month like that before! It is important to know that you need to take care of yourself as well. Not only for sleep but also doing things you enjoy! Take time to read a book, play a video game, take a walk...you get the idea.

Practice good habits to protect your mental health, assignments can come later. One thing I really like to do is arts and crafts. It lets me take time and think about something other than my "duties", I find it to be really therapeutic! Your well being is the most important thing. Always remember to take a break. You should be able to be productive and not have to sacrifice "your time". You are worth more than grades and statistics. I hope our November meeting can be a great break to all those who attend.
